Russians Hearing U.S. Broadcasts

Soviet Efforts to 'Jam' Programs Boomeranging

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22 (AP)—Russia's reported all-out effort to smother "Voice of America" radio broadcasts may be boomeranging. American listening posts have picked up a total of 18 Soviet stations, mostly centered around Moscow and Vladivostok, which state department officials say are used to "jam" the "Voice" programs.

These officials add, however, that they have found no evidence that the jamming never succeeds entirely and that the reaction of Russian listeners therefore is one of intensified interest; they want to find out what information it is their government seeks to deny them.

RE RETALIATION

The United States is not trying to retaliate by jamming Soviet broadcasts to this continent, the authorities say, but in making the special effort in its broadcast to Russia and to all people all over the world their government may not be giving to them.

There is evidence that this news is getting through, officials say, citing the Kaeskaia case as an example.

When Mrs. Okana Kaeskaia, the widow of the Russian consul in New York, was asked about the "Voice" program, she said she had heard it and was very interested in it.

Observers in Moscow reported that within three hours, news of what the Russian school teacher had done was widely known over the Soviet capital.

Many Listeners

George Allen, assistant state secretary, said in a domestic radio broadcast earlier this week that "such excellent communications, early estimate of 8,000,000 'Voice' listeners in the Soviet Union has been revised upward three or four times. Other officials said this means Soviet now thinks the number of listeners exceeds 24,000,000."

Mr. Williams declared that the government has no conception of the acute housing situation in Canada, but by permitting the blanket 10 per cent increase on small apartment rents, it is making it impossible for many of the present tenants to pay even the present rent scales.

The order will lead to another round of labor battles with strikes for more money and shorter hours, increased rents, Mr. Williams declared.

Couple Who Kept Slave Boy Found

where Gordon was living, isn't it?" Mrs. Smith replied: "I ain't talking."

LOOK TO BE POOR

In the kitchen of the Smith house was a heavy set woman and with her was her husband, Sam Smith, a night man with a dark, aquiline face. Husband and wife looked poverty-stricken. Yet the house around them had been a bride's dream, so far as furnishings were concerned.

Although Mrs. Smith declined to speak of the boy, she willingly showed a reporter through the house.

The boy was identified definitely last night as Gordon Kelly by a school principal who knew him four years ago.

SPECULATION ENDS

The positive identification, coming as police intensified their search for the couple, ended speculation the youth might be Richard A. P. Wee Marlow who disappeared in 1944.

The principal who identified the Kelly boy is Ralph McIntosh of Toronto's Hamilton school. He said he knew Gordon Kelly as a pupil at Silverthorn public school in suburban York township.

Mr. McIntosh said that when Gordon Kelly attended his classes, he was living with a woman who was his mother and that he appeared severely and in need of his mother's care.

At the same time, he said he had no approach from any province which wanted to take over the child.

COULD ABANDON IT

He noted briefly that the couple had been taken over the rental field from the school as he and his mother were moving to a house on the Dundas highway.

He was in grade five and would say he had an intelligence quotient of about 90 or 95 which is normal.

increase may become effective Dec. 1 this year.

Turning to the whole field of rent control, Mr. Abbott said the government plans to ask parliament for power to continue the rental restrictions for another 12 months beyond March 31, 1949, the date on which the enabling legislation expires.

However, the government is prepared to vacate the rental field at any time after March 31 "to any province which may decide to undertake rent control."

NOT FEDERAL JOB

"Morally rent control would drop its rent control if the province or local administration because of the immovable nature of real property," he said. "The federal government is anxious not to stand in the way of any province which believes that rent control can be better understood and administered locally."

The Dominion will be prepared to make available to the provinces its records, information and the experience of the federal rental administration with all available staff.

In addition, it will submit to parliamentary approval—by the House of Commons—any bill introduced at the next session of parliament to extend the rent controls for another year. The existing legislation is the continuation of Transitional Measure Act. It dies automatically on March 31 along with any controls inherent in it.

Discussing the proposed ceiling increase, he said a "substantial" number of landlords had put the 10 per cent increase into effect when it was offered last year and it was not expected many tenants would be affected by the new 10 per cent offering.

This does not apply, however, to the five-per-cent heating bill. It will apply to all heated premises, although it is up to the individual landlord as to whether or not he puts it into effect. If the current

He added that the provision allowing the landlord cannot take advantage of the increase this winter.

Mr. Abbott said he felt the housing situation must be improving in view of the number of houses being built.

In Winnipeg Premier Gurney said his government would have to consider the matter of taking over rent control but that no urgency existed because no decision would have to be reached until next March.

Premier Duplessis of Quebec declined to comment on the Federal government's rent proposals. And in Toronto, Planning Minister Arthur Weiss said he would have to consider Finance Minister Abbott's announcement more carefully before commenting.

Atomic Waste Disposal Soon To Be World Problem

By Howard W. Blakeslee
NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—(AP)—One of the still secret projects of the United States Atomic Energy Commission is how to get rid of waste radioactive atoms. Some facts have been published, but most of the conferences are behind closed doors.

There are no risks yet. But not much time is left. Already 14 foreign countries are using the radioactive materials sold at Oak Ridge. Six more have made arrangements. Other countries are about to begin making similar radioactive materials.

The dangers will be world-wide, and it is probable that safety rules will be international.

OCEANS NOT SAFE

The hazards are radioactive solids, liquids and gases getting into the air, ground or water. Even oceans are not considered safe.

There are two kinds of radioactive risks, short-lived and long-lived. Some of the long-lived material may be hazardous a century hence as it is today.

Dr. Forrest Waters of the Oak Ridge national laboratory tells some possibilities of protection in a report to the Greater New York safety council, published in the scientific journal, Nucleonics.

Sufficient dilution by spreading thinly in water, air or ground would be safe. But there is no assurance that plants will not pick up not atoms and concentrate them.

Clays and some minerals, he says, already absorb some of the radioactive elements. Some resins do the same.

BURNING EXPERIENCE

At Bikini all sticks picked up thousands of times more of the radioactive atoms than the water. Small boats became temporarily unsafe from hot spots in marine growth on their bottoms.

One proposal is to put radioactive stuff in the solutions used for making concrete. This concrete would be made into solid blocks and sunk in an ocean. Even if the blocks broke after a century, not much radioactivity would be expected to escape. A difficulty is that some radioactive chemicals might prevent the concrete from setting.

Metal cans have been considered for the ocean. No tests have been published as to whether any can be yet known that will remain tight for a couple of centuries.

MIXING PROPOSED

Another study is on mixing the dangerous atoms with non-radioactive chemical elements. This mixing would use the same element.

Once mixed, the radioactive stuff presumably never would become separated for use in the most difficult problems of the atomic age has been to find methods of separating atoms of the same element.

Burial in the ground is not considered a solution because in a few years the material may spread through underground water.

There are a few burial places in the ground in air, can be made radioactive for more than a very few minutes, and usually the radioactive life of these two gases is measured in seconds.

The air can still be dangerous from pollution with other radioactive gases, but if nitrogen and oxygen were like most of the other chemical elements, capable of long-lived rays, the atmosphere would offer a great risk of poisoning.

NATURE SAFEGUARD

Nature provides the greatest single safeguard against polluting the air. Neither nitrogen nor oxygen, which form 70 per cent of the gases in air, can be made radioactive for more than a very few minutes, and usually the radioactive life of these two gases is measured in seconds.

Provincial Gov't Shows Big Surplus

Income Up Over Legislative Estimates

Alberta's provincial government realized a healthy overall surplus of $6,740,000 on income and capital accounts for the year ending March 31, 1948.

This was made known today with the release of the public accounts from the office of C. K. Hucak, provincial auditor.

Today's release, a 400-page document, sets forth all details of provincial financial transactions for the 12-month period to March.

Capital realized during the period was $34,790,000 as compared with the estimated revenue of $49,379,000.

Estimated expenditures were $32,881,000 which was exceeded by $1,900,000 in actual expenditures, leaving an income surplus of $17,180,000. This figure does not include Alberta government telephone revenue.

Old-Timers Plan Gala Affair

Days of backboard and river ferry travel will be recalled when members of the Northern Alberta Pioneer and Old Timers Association hold a public harvest dance Friday at St. Albert Community Hall, St. Albert.

Musical for the old-fashioned "howlers" will be supplied by Bert Pierce and his old time orchestra. Pioneers and members of the association and their friends are invited to attend. Dancing will continue from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. and refreshments will be served.

Executive of the association advertise the dance as "an evening of good fellowship, merriment, laughter and hilarity characteristic of the good old days when men were men and the country was better for it."

Treasury Branch Shows Excess

Alberta's treasury branches showed an excess revenue of $107,147 according to the public accounts for the 12 months ending March 31, issued today by C. K. Hucak, provincial auditor.

Total liabilities of the treasury branches are listed as $33,417,000.

An accumulated deficit of $1,836,200 is shown in the account, from which is deducted this year's surplus on operations giving a deficit at April 1, 1948, of $1,728,700.

Steel Restrictions May Hit Arena Extension

Ottawa announcement curtailing steel and iron imports from the United States is looked upon as not a serious threat to civic improvement plans, but may postpone work on the new Exhibition Grounds construction, it was learned today.

City Engineer A. W. Haddon said that the two planned bridge improvement projects, Low Level and 100th street bridge, would be completed close to schedule because materials are already under contract from the east.

While the 1950 completion schedule on the proposed arena extension at the exhibition site is reasonably well assured, Exhibition Fair Manager James Paul could not give assurance that steel due for delivery in January to be used in construction of the grandstand would be available at that time.

There was no doubt that further curtailments such as these just announced at Ottawa would have a marked effect on our proposed expansion program, Mr. Paul declared.

"However, we're hoping that when 1950 comes, the City of Edmonton will have the grandstand as scheduled."

Prefabricated material for the arena has been on order for some time and should arrive in January. Meanwhile, city construction firms gave assurance that there will be no work stoppages on building already going on in the Edmonton arena. They expressed doubt, however, that any new contracts for heavy construction would be issued.

World Peace Efforts Told At Symposium

Efforts on the part of four national organizations represented by local branches, to achieve world peace were related to the Edmonton chapter of the Council of Canadian Unity meeting at Talmi-Torah hall Thursday.

Operating a world program in all countries, the YMCA is attempting to "create peace and happiness in the minds of boys and men, and is promoting trust between individuals working for social and economic security," Stuart Harris, YMCA representative said.

Rehabilitation of European women and care for European orphans are the objectives of the National Council of Jewish Women in Canada, Mrs. M. Phillips, of that organization, told the meeting.

Efforts of the Federation of Russian Canadians to prevent a third world war were described by S. Senko.

Promotion of peace through a study of literature and current events was being made by school teachers, according to F. W. Wotton, head of Edmonton teacher groups which have recently joined the local branch of the United Nations Organization.

Dr. G. Hunter and Ben Hager, member of the local chapter of the Council of Canadian Unity also addressed the meeting.

branches are listed as $33,417,000. An accumulated deficit of $1,836,200 is shown in the account, from which is deducted this year's surplus on operations giving a deficit at April 1, 1948, of $1,728,700.

Only ticket sales allowed, Mr. Sheppard said, are for school concerts or for Pappy Day.

Steel Production Increase Sought

At Least One More Blast Furnace in Canada Urged

By Harold Morrison

OTTAWA, Oct. 22.—(CP)—The government has appealed to the Canadian steel industry to help solve Canada's critical shortage of steel.

This was confirmed today by an authoritative source who added that Trade Minister Howe likely will receive submissions in two weeks from at least four big steel companies on ways to meet the shortage.

The solution, said a government source, is in construction of at least another blast furnace with 1,000-ton-a-month pouring capacity.

"The problem is not in a lack of iron ore. We've plenty of ore. We just haven't got enough pouring capacity."

NO FURTHER CONTROLS

Meanwhile, the government was not planning any further steel controls such as the one announced by Mr. Howe yesterday.

"We'll wait and see what the industry can offer," the source said. Mr. Howe's announcement yesterday said that imports of American-made structural steel will require permits on all American shipments. The control by permit starts next Monday.

Mr. Howe agreed to a restricted supply from the United States because of American plans to rebuild her defenses. It brings down Canada's import from American plants from 1,000,000 to about 800,000 tons a year.

Defence projects in Canada would not suffer because of the shortage.

In civilian industry steel priority would be given hydro plant construction, rolling stock and box cars for railways, steel for the shipbuilding industry for Canadian agricultural implements and for the Dominion's expanding petroleum industry.

CONNECTICUT POLICE FREE THREE SKUNKS

NEW HAVEN, Oct. 22.—(CP)—Rescued skunks with their heads caught in glass jars has become routine for Connecticut police.

On Monday a state trooper had the job at Centerville. The next night another trooper freed a jar-trapped skunk at the Stafford Springs barracks.

Yesterday the New Haven police got into the act.

A skunk, in the usual predicament, was reported on a city street. Patrolmen went to the rescue.

While one attracted the animal's attention with a flashlight, the other pried its head loose from the jar with his nightstick.

Connecticut skunks apparently are appreciative. Not one of the trio disturbed the atmosphere.

Semi-Retired Philip Refuses To Be Sedate

LONDON, Oct. 22.—(CP)—The Duke of Edinburgh entered into a new phase of his life when he retired from the active list of the Royal Navy and went on half pay.

As consort of the future queen, he has entered on a long series of official engagements that call for more observance of formalities than has been his custom. In other words, he can have his pint of beer, but not with the boys in the pub.

The fast low-built sports car which flung him into a ditch during his engagement period, has gone—lent to Lieut. Michael Parker, equerry to the Royal couple. Prince Philip now uses a sedate streamlined saloon driven by a chauffeur at calmer speeds.

IMPATIENT OF DELAY
But while he now is conforming to a more formal pattern, Philip still cannot be called sedate. In patient of delay, he races along the quiet corridors of Buckingham Palace to the peril of old-fashioned retainers.

Soon after the delivery of his new car he dashed to Buckingham Palace from the Admiralty at luncheon and actually tested it out in the near-sacrosanct inner quadrangle where the King and Queen take an after-dinner stroll.

Down at Windham Moor where the Princess and the Duke have rented a country house, he rigged up a cricket net on the lawn recently and soon had Elizabeth's surprised chauffeur and her personal detective howling to him.

DECLINES SINCERE
When it became known Princess Elizabeth was expecting a baby, a well-meaning official proposed that Philip should remain on the active list of the Royal Navy with a sinecure appointment in London or Portsmouth which he could leave whenever he liked.

Philip turned down the proposal with an emphatic "No." He said he wanted his position made clear and unambiguous, even if it meant leaving the service for a while. As a result, he was put on the navy's half-pay list.

So far, however, he has made no attempt to interfere with the official side of Princess Elizabeth's life. He wanted to take her to the Riviera for a holiday this year, but made no protest when overruled.

SANTA CLAUS FOUNDATION ESTABLISHED

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 22.—(AP)—Hollywood still believes in Santa Claus and it seems that San Francisco does too.

The establishment of the Santa Claus Foundation, geographically centered at the north pole, was announced Wednesday night by Eddie Bracken, one of a number of actors supporting the project.

The foundation's main aim will be to answer letters to Santa Claus and wherever possible to send gifts to underprivileged children.

San Francisco will be the actual headquarters for the non-profit corporation.

Canadiens Vanquish Hapless Leafs 5-0

SPORTS BULLETIN
10 EDMONTON BULLETIN, Friday, October 22, 1948

MONTREAL, Oct. 22.—(CP)—Montreal Canadiens flashed a sustained offensive Thursday night that overcame the hapless Toronto Maple Leafs 5-0 and gave goalie Bill Durnan his first shutout of the season.

The victory sent Canadiens to the top of the National Hockey league with five points, against four for Detroit Red Wings, who play here Saturday night, and Boston Bruins.

It was the second straight loss for the Leafs in as many games and on their showing they appeared far below the pace that carried them to the NHL championship and Stanley Cup honors last year.

Leafs could seldom get an attack organized, and when they did they ran into a stubborn Canadian defence and Durnan's smart goal-tending.

MISS SVL APPS
They appeared particularly to miss SVL Apps, their centre-line general for many years, and at times bemoaned about inside their own blue line.

There was plenty of rugged play as close-checking. Thirteen penalties were handed out. The Leafs drawing seven. Bill Bariko and Harry Chamberlain drew majors for fighting late in the third period. It was Chamberlain's fourth penalty of the game.

Canadiens' superiority was shown in action as they broke against 13 by Durnan.

The Montrealers got to work early in the first period. Claude Lach counting. In the second Canadiens' second line, which has played better than the first, got far, far in three goals—Norm Desautel, Joe Carveth and Billy Rizzo counted.

UNLUCKY LEAFS
At one stage in the second with Canadiens' short-handed, Leafs put on a terrific pressure and were unlucky not to score. Max Bentley and Ted Kennedy both hit goal posts with their shots.

In the final period Canadiens added another goal when Glen Harmon caught the Leafs flat-footed for a breakthrough while his own team was a man short.

Bentley, who tried hard to get his rookie wingers organized, was the sharpest offensive threat of the Leafs along with Kennedy.

LINE-UPS
Toronto-Bruce: Bouché, Bariko, Klucki, Emrick, Watson, sub-McKenzie, Bentley, Thomson, Kennedy, Sheker, Lynn, Cusack, Mackell, Mac, Dave, Dave.

Montreal-Durnan: Reardon, Bouché, Harmon, Lach, Richard, Bentley, Emrick, Fiddie, Chamberlain, Boring, Robertson, Bouché, Lach, Chamberlain, Bentley, Kennedy, Sheker, Lynn, Cusack, Mackell, Mac, Dave, Dave.

First Period: 1-Montreal, Lach (Robertson) 2:34. Penalties—Emrick, Lach, Chamberlain, Kennedy (minor and major).

Charlie Fusari Whips Tip Larkin

JERSEY CITY, N.J., Oct. 22.—(AP)—Charlie Fusari, blond Irvington, N.J., welterweight contender, stopped the veteran Tip Larkin of Garfield, N.J., last night in the 23rd of the sixth round of a scheduled 10-rounder at the Jersey City Armory. Fusari weighed 147, Larkin, 143½.

Larkin, showing little of his old master boxing form, never went down in the all-Jersey finale which ended with the 30-year-old Fusari collapsing against the ropes. Referee Paul Cavalieri stopped the bout to save Larkin further punishment.

The winner, who is supposed to have a "promise" of a title shot at Welter King Ray Robinson, hit Larkin at will after the second round. He had flattened Tip Larkin in the ninth round of a previous meeting at Madison Square Garden Feb. 14, 1947.

In a six-round preliminary bout, Tito Valles of New York outpointed the veteran, Jimmy Callera of Hamilton, Ont. Each weighed 128.

RETRIEVERS ESCAPE BRITISH AUSTERITY

VANCOUVER, Oct. 22.—(CP)—Fugitives from the British austerity laws, two valuable sporting dogs have come to make their home here.

They are sleek coal-black Labrador retrievers brought here by Donald Adamson, one of the old country's leading breeders. He refused an offer of $2,000 for one of them.

The pair, brought from Glasgow, won more than 500 prizes in the old country.

Adamson said he had to dispose of his kennel because of shortage of meat and the lack of game for training purposes.

WINSTON-SALEM, N.C., Oct. 22.—(AP)—A 31-year old baseball manager, who turned state's evidence and pleaded guilty to throwing a class C baseball game, was sentenced to serve a year in prison Thursday.

Two other men who pleaded innocent to the same charges were freed.

Bernard DeGore, former pitcher-manager of the Reidsville, N.C., Carolina league club and on-time player for Montreal Royals of the International league, was sentenced by Judge Allen Gwyn.

W. C. McWaters and Tommy Phillips, used automobile dealers of Clover, S.C., were acquitted by a jury which deliberated 37 minutes.

A fourth defendant, Emmanuel Weingarten, former owner of the Florence, S.C., Tri-State league team, and the Leadsville, N.C., Blue Ridge league team, died before the trial.

All were charged with conspiracy and bribery in connection with the fixing of a league game between Reidsville and Winston-Salem at the latter's home park last May 14.

Escallier's 17 Points Spark Sep to Victory

A one-man team by name Maurice Escallier led St. Joe's junior high school football team to a crushing 23-0 victory over Seona Thursday afternoon at the South Side Athletic grounds.

Escallier personally scored Sep's first 17 points with three touchdowns and two converts to put his club atop the junior standstill with two wins and no losses. Victoria has one victory against no defeats for second place. Seona and Westgate have not won a game, the South Siders using two and Westgate one.

GAME RULED OUT
The Wednesday game when Vic edged Westgate 5-0 has been ruled out because Vic used an ineligible player in Ed Solomon. The replay will be Monday.

Escallier picked up converted touchdowns in each of the first two quarters as well as an untimed quarter as well as the second quarter. A Vince Myers-McDonald pass was good for the fourth TD in the third stanza. Myers converted.

Inter-City Soccer League Possibility for Alberta

Local soccer is about to shed its short pants for a long pair of trousers.

In other words, the Alberta soccer fraternity is going to get at it big-time next year. That is, if George Wilce, secretary of the Edmonton and District Soccer Association, gets his way.

It was only two years back that baseball caught fire when Henry Roche banded Calgary and Edmonton to form a top-notch inter-city loop.

"The time is about ripe to form a similar soccer league," Wilce enthused Thursday night. The proposed loop will not come up for its first reading until the annual Alberta association meeting in Calgary late in November. However, Wilce is enthusiastic about the "shamateur" scheme and thinks it has a good chance of passing with flying colors.

Wilce hopes to have teams from Edmonton (2), Calgary (2), Red Deer and Lethbridge enter the loop. He plans to co-ordinate with southern interests immediately.

A BIG THING
"Soccer is a big thing in the east and on the West Coast today. There's absolutely no reason why it shouldn't be big industry here," says Wilce. In fact, he goes in as far as to predict that soccer "will be one of the biggest drawing cards in Canada within a few years."

It's a well known fact that the game was big time way back in the days of Diamond Park, some 24 and more years ago. Interest has gathered out, however, until there's little left but a spark.

A good brand of soccer might arouse the public interest. As in other sports Edmonton people have proved they want nothing but the best. All last season they turned their backs on local soccer, but were very hot in border when the powerful Vancouver Stingers hit the contingent from North Side Legion in the western playoff.

THE TURNING POINT
The inter-city loop could well represent the turning point of soccer in Edmonton and Alberta. In this city the lack of keen competition has been a great drawback for the number of years, with the result that only one team—the NS Legion—has stuck its head above sea level.

Wilce is of the opinion that many Edmonton players are good enough to hook up with team from coast to coast. "Take Bill Thomas, for instance," he said. "The ex-Legion performer is playing for the hall for West Westminster Royals of the Pacific League. Yet, Thomas was just another player as far as Edmonton was concerned."

Regardless of the outcome of the "shamateur" plan, Wilce is of the opinion that "we won't exist on our soccer standard for the next two years. The local soccer loop would have to be broken down to four continents.

comes on the eve of an exhibition tour.

There are two schools of the champion fighting again.

Those who don't like the idea probably are influenced by sentimental reasons. They want to remember Louis as the great fighter, he unquestionably was. In his last two fights, with Walcott, Louis' skill was showing more than a little.

The other school takes the "why not?" attitude. The students figure that as fighters go, the champion has taken comparatively little punishment, and would not endanger his well-being by continuing to fight.

Fighting is his business, and a business man doesn't make money by retiring. Louis has a plus chance of living which takes an income much greater than his would be in retirement.

On top of that, who does he have to fear right now? Faded as he is, he still would be an odd-on favorite against any fighter currently on the horizon.

A Verbal Blast

Maurv Van Vleet, the power, glory and president of the Edmonton Athletic Council, has spoken. In fact, he barked rather than spoke when the question of professional football being played in Clarke Stadium was raised at the council confab this week.

His words on the issue were hot enough to burn the hair off a Golden Bear at 30 paces, and when transcribed sounded as follows:

"Let them (the pro interests) build their own field, out along Kingsway. Clarke Stadium already is overworked, and if the group wants to bring in pro football, let them build a $100,000 or $500,000 stadium of their own."

The council is reported to have acclaimed Mr. Van Vleet's verbal blast as the greatest speech since the Declaration of Independence and supported it to the last man.

But there are those in the Edmonton football picture who think the man from Oregon is barking up the wrong tree.

Remember the Booster Club?

For one thing, Clarke Stadium was developed as an athletic park, largely through the efforts of the booster club. It is the only Booster Club of 1938 and 1939. The Boosters, led by Moe Lieberman and Ken Montgomery, had the lights installed, and the grandstand built for the Eskimos games in the Western Conference.

In the final analysis the Boosters made, and lost, a lot of money at Clarke Stadium but in so doing they established a fine piece of property for the city.

Since the Eskimos curled up and died in 1939, Clarke Stadium has been a luxury. Year in and year out very few of the sports enterprises have drawn cash customers in substantial numbers and today high school football is the only paying business in the park.

The empty seats at soccer and cash attractions have been as familiar as grass in the park. Varsity football packed the stadium only once in recent years and junior football games have been played too sparsely to jam the grandstand.

In these days when a dollar buys a quarter's worth of butter, the time it takes for the Boosters and the Eskimos to put Clarke Stadium to the use for senior football.

The council is composed of representatives of all amateur sports and it makes recommendations to the Recreation Commission on how facilities, playing fields, etc., should be allocated to various athletic organizations.

The question naturally arises: who or what is the Athletic Council?

Well, up to the edict of Prof. Van Vleet there was some doubt as to whether it actually existed. No one concerned if Edmonton had an entry in the conference.

The group referred to by the professor is headed by one Joseph Shoor, a promoter in the local entertainment world. Joseph applied to the Recreation Commission sometime ago for a lease on Clarke Stadium with a view to receiving senior football in 1949. It assured the RC that the seniors would play at the stadium and would aid juniors and intermediate football in every way possible.

When confronted with the bill, Mr. Shoor's decision to fight any return of the Eskimos to Clarke Stadium.

Shoor was not visibly shaken.

"Where does the Athletic Council get its authority? That kind of talk sounds big coming from an outfit that meets so irregularly."

He then went on to say that he was travelling to Calgary this weekend to discuss football matters concerning Edmonton with certain southern parties.

It's your turn to carry the bill, Prof. Van Vleet.

Quakers Fire Kirk; Hunter New Coach

SASKATOON, Oct. 22.—(CP)—Saskatoon Quakers today have a new manager-coach following a drastic shake-up Thursday designed to improve the present plight of the Western Canada Hockey League tail-enders. The executive first requested the resignation of Coach Bobby Kirk. This was followed by resignation of manager Burt Schlarf.

President H. M. Cawston then announced that Bill Hunter, former manager-coach of Regina Capitals, had been named manager-coach of the Saskatoon club. Hunter took over from Kirk who had survived the summer.

The Quakers' new coach, Hunter, said: "I think I can have a few key players here within the year future. It is terribly late to start hunting hockey players but there are one or two scattered through the west who have expressed willingness to play for me anytime I wanted them and there seems no better time than now."

"I think I am stepping into one of the toughest hockey jobs in Canada," Hunter added, "but I'll put forth every effort to give Saskatoon a team worthy of being in competition with other clubs in the league."

Quakers have lost all five games played so far this season, scoring 10 goals and allowing 30 against them. Worst defeat came from Edmonton Flyers, who set Saskatoon back 14-3 last Monday.

Odds Shorten On Specialty

LONDON, Oct. 22.—(AP)—Odds on Specialty, the favorite to win the Cambridgeshire Stakes next Wednesday, shortened to 11 to 2 last night.

At the last rollover Monday, the three-year-old bay colt was 6 to 1. The favorite in the nine-furlong handicap at Newmarket, now stands at 36 to 1.

A major factor in the shortening of Specialty's price was the fact it is equipped with its stallionmaster, Woodburn, winner of last week's Great Western, in the autumn betting odds.

Royal Tara, assigned top weight of 128 pounds, was quoted at 21 to 1. Explorer, the second favorite, eased to 8 to 1 from 15 to 2.

Lady Luck Booting Bill Maher Around

High Scoring Wingman

Will Untrack Before Long!

It's well known that Bill Maher's last name takes quite a beating, with eight or 10 different pronunciations going the rounds. And not that it's such a difficult name to get tongue to, either.

However the speedy Flyer winger probably isn't half so concerned over this as he is over the kicking around he has been taking from Lady Luck so far this season.

So far he hasn't come up with a scoring point—goal or assist. Typical of his ill-luck was a play in the dying moments of the 14-3 Flyer conquest of Saskatoon Quakers on the local pond the other evening. Maher worked his way through along his wrong wing, drew Ken MacKulay aside and nudged the puck into the cage.

"WE WUZ ROBBED!" Only it didn't get there, it suddenly "sat up" on entry, wobbled crazily a few times and then "sat down"—just short of being over the goal line.

Always a high scoring attacker there's little doubt but what the youngest of the Maher boys (remember Phil and Paul?) will get tracked before long.

He's like most hockey players. He doesn't just like to get his points, he loves 'em.

Flyers, minus Andy Ciovecchio, who is a doubtful starter tonight at Calgary because of a foot injury, were going for another practice session last night. Coach Frank Currie plans to take Freddy Smith along just in case.

If Smith plays, it will mark the first action of the season for the first winger. Consistent of the last year aim on the jitters line this far, the team leaves at noon Friday for the southern Alberta centre.

MONTREAL, Oct. 22.—Edmonton may be the site of the Western Canada outdoor skating championships this season, Champion Frovrencher, honorary secretary and treasurer of the Amateur Skating Association of Canada, said Thursday.

At the same time it was announced the 61st annual meeting of the association would be held in Montreal Nov. 20. At that time arrangements for the 1949-50 season will be made and sanctions for holding the Canadian speed and figure skating championships will be dealt with.

Mr. Frovrencher said it is likely the 1949 national outdoor skating championships, for both men and women, will be held in Saskatoon while the indoor events may take place at Saint John, N.B.

Sudbury, Ont. may bid for the eastern Canada outdoor open speed skating events.

The Ottawa and district association is expected to seek the 1949 North American outdoor championships in addition to fancy skating events for both men and women.

By 11 o'clock tonight the finalists in next Friday's senior high school football league likely will be known.

St. John's, who already have clinched a berth, play West-ern tomorrow night in the last scheduled game of the season.

On the other hand, if St. John's lose and Victoria Tims come through with a victory over Eastview Tigers, a playoff to decide who will play St. John's will be in order.

The Irish and Lions open tonight's game at 7:30 o'clock with the V-E-X television recorder following.

East Comparing Backfield Greats

By Wally Lesok
TORONTO, Oct. 22. — (CP)—Baz (Montreal Star) O'Meara's recent praise of University of Western Ontario Mustangs' 23-game winning parade and his suggestion they have the greatest running backfield in history of Canadian football, brings a doubting tone from Mike (Kingston Whig-Standard) Rodden.

Rodden recalls great varsity teams meet the turn of the century and moves along nearer the present day, listing great players. "In modern times or rather in the campaign of 1921 Argonauts presented such notable rearwarders as Lionel Conacher, Harry Bateman, and Shrimp Cowburn. Others had led Lesley, Bateman, Dave Harding and the late Johnny Evans and Hamilton Tigers had Lesley, Tim Langany, Ken Walker, Ray Broadway, Glen Small, Bert Gibb, Bruno Wright, Eddie Wright and Huck Welch."

Rodden argues that no one knows how Mustangs would have stacked up against the old Argos or the old Grey Cup. He says, "However, it is a fact that the Big Four champions have been and will

Hornets Snip Barons Winning Streak at 31

CLEVELAND, Oct. 22. (AP)—Cleveland Barons' streak of undefeated games in the American Hockey league was ended at 31 Thursday night by the fast-attacking Pittsburgh Hornets. A crowd of 8,000 saw Pittsburgh win 5-3.

It was Cleveland's first defeat in a regularly scheduled league game since last Jan. 26.

The Hornets took a 2-1 lead in the first period and enlarged it to 5-1 in the second.

The Barons rallied for two goals by Ralph Wierchely, new Cleveland right winger, and another by centre Johnny Holcha during the last period. But their sustained assault failed to reach Hornet goalie Alden (Bert) Blatter, the league's leading goalender last season, who made 25 saves.

The record did not include playoff games, in which the Barons were beaten once by Providence during the league title eliminations last spring. The best previous mark by any team in the 12-year history of the league was 19 straight.

Budoloh Nisley, Stan Kemp

Eddie Kobussen, Pete Blacker and Bill Benson scored for Pittsburgh.

Horne Buller scored for Cleveland.

Bears Call on Ex-Stalwarts For Match Against 'Riders

Senior football returns to Clarke Stadium for a one night stand next Monday when the Varsity Golden Bears tangle with Saskatchewan Roughriders.

Starting time for the game is 8:15 p.m. The Bears have just finished winning the western intercollegiate title for the third successive year while the 'Riders are battling to forestall elimination from a playoff berth in the western conference.

Varsity will be strengthened by the game by the addition of some former stalwarts as Bill Ingram and Jack Perry, neither of whom has played this season.

The injured Ken Moore expects to see action also, and will likely be switched from a backfield to tackle position.

The 'Riders are a fine ball team, with a first string which is reputedly better-balanced than the powerful Calgary Stampeders. However, they lack the depth in reserves and the field generalship which the Stamps possess.

Stratford, Toronto Bid For Lewicki

PORT ARTHUR, Oct. 22. (CP)—Both Stratford Kroehlers of the Ontario Hockey Association and for a League and Conn Smythe, managing director of Toronto Maple Leafs of the National Hockey league, have offered Port Arthur Columbus club approximately $2,000 for the release of left wing, Danny Lewicki, it was learned here Thursday.

"We're still negotiating," said Ed Romano, president of Columbus club, confirming a report that both the Stratford and Toronto clubs were bidding for the services of Lewicki, who was born in Port Arthur.

Lewicki, for whom Smythe paid Providence Reds of the American Hockey league more than $10,000, is at Stratford.

Loaned by Columbus club to Port Arthur Bruins last year, he played a leading role in Port Arthur club's march to the Memorial cup championship.

MANY BIRDS IN FLOCK OF MARTIN

HOVEY, Sussex, Oct. 22. (CP)—Rev. P. J. Martin, writing in his parish magazine, had this to say about his flock.

"I am fated to be always administering to birds. One Sunday in Norwich I baptised three babies, named Gaudy, Starting and four own daughters' Martin. Among those about the font were Miss Haven and Miss

A week later I married a policeman named Gaudy to Miss Swain. Among my confidantes was Olive Jay, printer of our church magazine, was Mr. Gause.

The Capitals had been unable to best New Haven in Indianapolis ice last season.

Cliff Simpson got the Caps away in front at 17:07 of the first period. The Ramblers did all their scoring in a space of 50 seconds early in the second period. A Bill Hamden, with Leftbridge Native Sons last season, led the count at 4:12 and near Tennis put New Haven ahead 3-2.

The Ramblers led last night 3-2 seconds. Buddy MacKay halted in a rebound at 6:44 to tie it up. Rebound just one minute later.

In the final period Elio Sciziani, Rod Morrison and Eddie Brunette added a goal apiece for Caps.

OC SPORT VIDEO OUT UNTIL FEES BOOSTED

LONDON, Oct. 22. —(BUP)—Thousands of British families are waiting for the day when every major sports event in England will be brought right into their homes by television.

But they'll probably have to keep on waiting unless several major changes are made by promoters and broadcasting officials.

Soccer matches, fights and the recent Olympic Games all have been telecast over a 40-mile region around London. Gradually, promoters have been clamoring down 'till no longer is telecast.

Biting promoters too have slammed the door many times in the face of British Broadcasting of the BBC.

The boss of the British Broadcasting Corporation, Lord Hailsham, says most sports officials want to televise their events. But he adds one of the big objections is the small fees offered by the BBC.

Miss McGown Recent Bride

In a double ceremony performed recently at Melbourn United church, Margaret, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Adam McGown of Edmonton, became the bride of James Patterson, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Patterson, also of Edmonton. Rev. Wesley Hainbridge officiated.

Entering the church on the arm of her father, the bride was groomed in white broad satin. Her finger-ring was caught in her hair with a wreath of orange blossoms and she carried a bouquet of red roses and white mums.

Attending the bride was Miss Joyce Hartley. She was groomed in yellow net, and carried a bouquet of mauve mums.

Robert Patterson was best man and George Welsh and John Maniacki acted as groomsmen.

At a reception held following the ceremony, the mother of the bride and the mother of the bridegroom assisted in receiving.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. McGown chose a black suit complemented by white accessories and a carriage robe.

Mrs. Patterson was groomed in black, with a carriage of roses. Three tier wedding cake centred the bride's table, which was decorated with bouquets of mums and tall tapers.

Assisting in serving were Miss Doris Davidson, Miss Norma Knight and Miss Margaret Robinson.

A wedding present to the bride. For a honeymoon to be spent in Vancouver, Victoria and Seattle the bride's parents followed the ceremony, and later on, a wedding dance in the community hall honored the newlyweds.

St. Anthony's Altar Society will hold a rummage sale in Social Center hall, Monday at 2:30 a.m. Mrs. McNeilly is convenor.

House-Eccers Put Theory Into Practice In Six-Day Session Over a Hot Old Stove

Preparing three meals a day may be a major problem to many city housewives. But it's simple in comparison to the job confronting co-eds studying Household Economics at the University of Alberta.

As part of their nutrition training students enrolled in their third year spend six days every autumn standing over a hot stove. Housewife in put into practice as the students market, plan well-balanced meals, and then prepare them.

For three of the six days the house-eccers assist another senior student in preparing meals. During this period she follows the wishes of the student preparing the meal, peeling potatoes, slicing onions or boiling eggs.

Not only are they prepared, they are eaten. A member of the staff of the department attends the meals and on two occasions students in their first and second years are present.

During the remaining three days of the six-day period the student entirely prepares and cooks the meals. From early morning till 11 in the evening she is concerned with buying nutritious foods, cooking them with care and serving them attractively.

Meals suitable for a family are prepared on two of the days while on the third, food served at formal gatherings is required. Always calorie count must be considered, vitamin and protein contents kept in mind.

If by the time the girls have cooked nine meals they have had practice experience in preparing bread, cakes, puddings and keeping dishes fresh.

But this is not the only training received. Correct table setting and serving must be learned, while table manners must be abetted since the cook eats the meals she has cooked with the staff member. And always there's the dishes to be done. But exhausted as the chef cook and bottle washer may become Saturday at 8 p.m. there's always just enough pep to rush from the lab to the bedroom, in some party.

Yet the experience is an invaluable part of the training of house-eccers.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a grey wool two-piece dress with wine accessories and an orchid corsage. Her jewelry was a cameo pendant and matching earrings, the gift of her groom.

John McGregor was his brother's best man.

Wedding music was played by Mrs. W. A. Johnson.

Mrs. McDonald, mother of the bride, received the wedding guests at a reception following the ceremony. She chose an afternoon dress of grey tulle, complimented by wine accessories and a corsage of dark red roses.

Fashions have come a long, long way from Eve and her fig leaves to Miss 1948 with her elegant flattery.

Today, as in the era of our great-grandmothers, the trend leans toward femininity, dignity, grace, the subtle use of beautiful materials.

During the past half a dozen months, designers and manufacturers have outdone themselves in production of glowing, patterned, satins, heavy, rustling tulle, tulle, bengalies, watered silk and a host of others.

Simplicity of line goes hand in glove with the glamorous, shimmering materials.

At the impressive formal opening of the Mandarin Dress Salon the other day Edmonton women chatted and sipped their hearts delight when Mrs. B. Priestley modeled a breathtakingly beautiful midnight blue alvery lame cocktail dress.

Cap sleeves, flaring hip drapery on one side heightened the perfect lines of the dress... but the color and material were the eye-catchers.

It's the sort of dress in which you couldn't help feeling attractive. You sure your conversation would be more sparkling to match the look.

Bewitching magic of black French lace over blue crepe exaggerated the dark beauty of Mrs. W. Marquardt when she presented a deceptively simple frock for the spectators.

The skirt of this character was sleek about the waistline and fell into generous flare at the hemline.

Mrs. C. E. Dowdell wore a black effective frock that was made important by a wide, swooning ruffle of tulle at the hemline. The frock of sheer wool crepe had three-quarter-length sleeves and figure-flattering lines.

More intricately styled were modeled by Mrs. A. Johnson. Outstanding in this group was a beautiful grey crepe and lace evening gown. A truly rare of a dinner gown, the inserts of Venetian lace softened the lines.

In the 12th century there were few venetians and food was generally eaten with the fingers.

Huard Maintains Innocence at Trial

Statement Written by Alleged Slayer Read Into Evidence

LA MALBAIE, Que., Oct. 22.—(CP)—A jury, hearing the trial of Lionel Huard, charged with the murder of his English war bride, listened yesterday to a statement in which the 27-year-old returned soldier declared he was innocent of the drowning of his wife.

The statement, pencilled on 16 pages of writing-paper three weeks after Mrs. Huard, the former Mary Florence Green of Thornaby-on-Tees, Yorkshire, was drowned in the St. Lawrence river, was read into evidence on the third day of the trial.

Provincial detective Jean-Marie Bouchard, who investigated the case, read a copy of the statement in the packed courtroom while Huard sat in the prisoner's box.

"NOT GUILTY"
"I swear and will always swear that I am not guilty of the drowning of my wife," Huard wrote while he was held at Forestville, Quebec, a few miles from the death scene.

"All my foolishness to make up to Mariette (Therby) was not right," wrote the accused about a 27-year-old girl who was killed Tuesday that Huard had threatened to make his wife "disappear" on the first fine spring Sunday.

"Never in my life did I have the intention of making my wife disappear because I loved her so much I could not be separated from her and also because of love for the children," the statement continued.

TOLD OF QUARRELS
Huard went on to tell of quarrels with his wife and her mother in the remote St. Lawrence north shore village of Ste. Therese de Colombe.

"She split my head open with a knife and I had to have several stitches," she struck me in the face with her hands. She broke a glass with her hands. She scratched my face and I did not get even," said Huard "I forgave her."

The first local society of the Red Cross in the United States was organized at a Lutheran Church in Danville, N.Y., in 1881.

Inside Hollywood

By Bob Thomas
HOLLYWOOD.—(AP)—Who is the person behind the star?

For every famous figure there is another behind the scenes that gave him the first push toward success.

For an insight into the road to stardom, we asked film personalities this question: "The influence of what single person made you a movie star? Here's how they replied."

Gregory Peck: "Katherine Cornell and Gladys McLinn gave me my first professional stage work—four lines. I worked with them for two years and learned a lot about acting. I turned down Hollywood offers until economics drove me. I was in debt and couldn't see any other way out."

Don Duryea: "Alexander M. Drumm, my drama instructor at Cornell University, taught me a great number of things that I still find useful. Strangely enough, he advised me against becoming an actor."

John Garfield: "Angelo Patri, principal of the school I attended in New York. I was sent to the school a little delinquent and Patri kept my mind out of mischief and got me interested in debating and acting."

Joel McCrea: "William H. Hart was my inspiration. When I was 12, I delivered papers to him. He was very nice and his job seemed like a good way to make money. Will Rogers actually got me into the business. I played his son in two pictures and that set me up with the public."

Zachary Scott: "Frank fellowell. I wanted to make some money and acting was the thing I could do best."

Jack Carson: "Ginger Rogers rejected me as a actor in five or six pictures at RKO. I decided to change studios and concentrate on comedy roles."

Fight of Photo Ends On University Campus

VANCOUVER, Oct. 22.—(CP)—The fight of the photo ended at the University of British Columbia.

President Norman Mackenzie, who returned to find a fair-voiced furor raging on his campus, yesterday issued a terse statement that spelled "retreat" to the belligerents.

The incident began when a student photographer snapped two faculty members exchanging a salute and back-swinging with professional enthusiasm. Mackenzie, an engineering lecturer.

The embarrased educators, Acting Dean Dr. H. J. McLeod and Prof. William Armstrong, fled to acting-president F. M. Clement.

PUBLISHED IN PAPER
Don Haggart, student editor of the Ulyssey, obeyed the suppression order which followed, but left a blank space on his front page, with this apology:

"We regret that pressure exerted by the dean of applied science and the acting president forced us to withdraw the picture."

A Vancouver daily newspaper purchased the photo and gave it front-page spread. It showed the two faculty members, one smiling and the other looking serious, standing in front of a building.

Yesterday Prof. Armstrong entered a classroom and was greeted by an impromptu student chorus singing "Put Your Arms Around Me, Honey."

HAGGART ON CARPET
Haggart led the carpet in president Mackenzie's office yesterday morning. When he left he quoted the president as having said "There won't be any further action. The less said about it the better."

Mackenzie didn't confirm the alleged quote—but he didn't deny it either.

"I will have no statement," he said.

Miss Mack, the innocent cause of the maelstrom, said she was glad the picture got published.

"If it hadn't been printed," she said, "people would have thought it wasn't a nice picture."

Yellowknife's Beer Service To Be Probed

OTTAWA, Oct. 22.—(CP)—The government's North West Territories' council decided it was time to look into Yellowknife's 24-hour beer service.

The all-day, all-night beer service became legal last spring on a "trial run" to please miners, who were Yellowknife mines working 24 hours a day.

However, the council said it has received a suggestion from Yellowknife trustees that the beer dispensing system might bear "investigation."

The council also decided to amend Yellowknife's laws making cafe and restaurant proprietors responsible for the conduct of their patrons who insist on "drinking whiskey" in their establishments.

"It's only right," said a spokesman, "Other Canadian cities abide by that rule."

THEIR APPROACH DOESN'T WORK

VANCOUVER, Oct. 22.—(CP)—Two 11-year-old boys tried out an amorous approach in an attempt to snatch a purse from Miss Jean Bell yesterday.

The 10-year-old woman was walking along an East End street when one of the boys asked her for a kiss and threw his arms around her.

His pal grabbed Miss Bell's purse but a few screams from the intended victim sent both boys scurrying for cover.

Of these 788 active cases and 4,797 inactive cases were discovered, and 14,837 abnormalities of other types were reported.

Edmontonites will be asked to subscribe $50,000 during the 1948-49 Christmas Seal Campaign to support the work.

ST. LAURENTS FIND HOME
OTTAWA, Oct. 22.—(CP)—The St. Laurents must be lucky, that's all. They have found an apartment in the capital.

The Prime Minister-designate and his wife soon will move into a larger suite in the centre town flophouse apartment where they have been living.

Their present quarters do not include kitchen facilities and the management of the apartment building is preparing a larger suite.

A lease, covering one year's occupancy, already has been signed.

"HAVE A THREE-WAY STAKE IN BUSINESS"

Yes, every farmer who is a shareholder works for Canada in three ways. He grows food. He buys manufactured goods and thus promotes trade. And, by investing his savings in Canadian business, he helps the industrial development of the Dominion.

Today, many Canadians from every walk of life are Shareholders... three-way citizens who work, buy and in addition invest their money in business. They are owners of every business in which they invest. Their money is "creative money." It earns income for them. It also helps Canada by enabling business to grow and progress at home and abroad. More jobs, better wages and increased opportunities are thus thrown open to fellow Canadians.

Among the shareholders of George Weston Limited are many farmers. These farmers, together with Canadian men and women from every walk of life comprise the 450 Shareholders who are owners of Weston's.

Federal Highway Support Is Urged

Speaker Suggests Leduc Could Pay Alberta Share

By Forbes Rhude
WINNIPEG, Oct. 22.—(CP)—Highways Minister Erick Willis of Manitoba, yesterday told the Canadian Chamber of Commerce that some of the "adventure" should be taken out of trying to cross Canada by road.

The trans-Canada highway should be completed, he said in an address with contributions from the federal government, which if the United States pattern were followed, would amount to 50 per cent of the cost.

"We would like to see the necessary steps taken in order to permit our own people from all parts of Canada to visit each other, and thousands of Americans, bearing goodwill and American dollars, to travel across Canada in reasonable comfort."

The Maritime provinces, with a good revenue from tourists and relatively small mileage, Mr. Willis stated, have paved their part of the trans-Canada route, and, vice versa, has Quebec. There is, however, a great gap of unpaved roads across northwestern Ontario, and difficult mountain passes in British Columbia.

Manitoba has no real problem, said Mr. Willis with a smile. Alberta might be able to utilize hundreds of miles of free-lance payment with royalties on Leduc oil alone.

SASKATCHEWAN BURDEN

But Saskatchewan, with only seven per cent of Canada's population, has some 8,000 miles of trunk roads to maintain, more than Ontario, or about 1,500 miles in addition to the part of the trans-Canada highway.

If left entirely to the provinces there would be nine standards of road to travel over, and he added, the federal government has vital interests in tourist traffic, trade and defence.

He advocated the American system in force since 1916, which operates on a non-political commission, and ensures high standards, and uniformity through inspections, in return for the 50 per cent contribution.

High Sale Prices

CALGARY, Oct. 22.—(CP)—High prices were realized at the first day of the sheep sale held here yesterday in connection with the annual Calgary fair sale. Top price of $500 was paid by Washington State University to B. H. A. MacDonald of Vulcan, Alta. for the grand champion Hampshire ram Suffolk ram will be sold tomorrow.

Provinces like the Maritimes and Quebec, which have already paved their share, might be compensated or provided with alternate road-building.

Mr. Willis addressed a luncheon given by the Winnipeg Chamber of Commerce, which was the highlight of the Canadian Chamber's trip to Vancouver for their annual meeting there next week.

The delegates, on two special trains, left last night with a day-long stop scheduled today at Saskatoon, and another at Edmonton tomorrow.

Decision Reserved On Application

PHOENIA, Ill., Oct. 22.—(AP)—An 11-year-old schoolboy who risked his life to stop a runaway truck, headed toward school yard was acclaimed as a hero yesterday.

The boy, Wayne Sisk, a sixth grade pupil and a school safety patrolman, had to climb over the top of a truck careening down a hill in order to stop it.

"I was scared, but I knew the truck had to be stopped, so I ran after it and jumped on," he said.

Wayne's mother didn't hear about it until last night—she said Wayne told her he forgot to mention it at home.

BRINGS GIFTS TO BERLIN

Children Cheer Arrival Of Clarence the Camel

BERLIN, Oct. 22.—(UPI)—Clarence the Camel flew the air-lin into Berlin yesterday and landed among the cheers of 3,000 German children.

Descending on wobbly legs from his private C-54, the long-necked baby camel found himself mobbed by the cheering, tumbling kids. Along with him, came nearly 7,000 pounds of Christmas food and candy, contributed by United States Army personnel at Neuburg air base and German children in Wiesbaden.

For two hours the mascot of the 8th Fighter Wing led the cheering children around on his back. Then, true to airlift tradition, he flew out again for another load of supplies.

This idea of the Berlin crisis all began in Tripoli six months ago when Lt. Donald Butterfield, of Montgomery, W. Va., bought Clarence for $20. He flew him to Germany in his B-26.

Clarence is the first camel to fly in the airlift and is believed to be far ahead in camel flying time with a total of 20 hours.

Clarence will go to Munich Monday and Stuttgart next Wednesday to help collect Christmas food for Berlin children, Butterfield said.

"We hope to recruit enough food and candy to provide a real Christmas for every one of Berlin's 70,000 children," he said.

"And if Clarence can't handle the job, Sam has promised to help."

Sam, he explained, is Clarence's adoptive, small donkey who follows the camel around Neuburg air base.

The Russians couldn't ignore Clarence. The official organ of the City of Moscow said:

Warning of Perils Sounded By Monty

Speaks of World Dangers On Alamein Anniversary Eve

The writer of the following dispatch attracted world-wide attention six years ago by his coverage of the Battle of El Alamein, which turned the tide against the German army in Africa. He now turned his correspondent credentials No. 1 by the British at the start of World War II.—EDITOR.

By Richard D. McMillan

LONDON, Oct. 22.—(UPI)—A warning of the peril facing a fear-ridden world was sounded by Field Marshal Montgomery, now supreme commander of the Western Union military bloc, in a message today on the eve of the anniversary of the desert battle of El Alamein.

"The people of the world are restless and critical," Montgomery said. "Fear is abroad, and deep anxiety about the future broods over freedom-loving nations."

"We can set the example of clear thinking and high endeavor. Let all of us who fought at Alamein be united in our determination to do our duty and obey the master rule of British life, which master rule surely is to fear God and honor the King."

Montgomery called Alamein one of his famous Eighth Army—the proud "desert army"—to London tonight to celebrate the sixth anniversary of this most famous of all desert battles, famous because it turned the tide against the Germans in Egypt.

It led to the combined American and British forces at El Alamein, which won a victory as famous in British minds as Naxos at Trafalgar.

The warning note sounded by Montgomery today echoes the sentiments of the British people.

The glory of previous celebrations of the anniversary has been replaced by gloom and foreboding. Looking back and comparing the promise of victory which began at El Alamein with the present children's state of the world, the British see every reason for pessimism.

Instead of disarmament they see the whole world refusing to disarm, with Montgomery charged with the organization of all western Europe's military strength into a compact fighting machine ready to go into action against any warlike invasion move.

PESSIMISM

Further signs that the world is groping little into armed camps is seen in the meeting of the conference, notwithstanding nations just ended here.

DRIVERS ESCAPE TWO-CAR SMASH

Heavy property damage resulted, but no one was injured when two autos collided at 124 street and Stony Main Road late Thursday, and one careened into the side of a building.

Accident followed the failure of one motorist, Russell K. Cavanaugh, Kindersley, Sask., to observe a stop sign as he entered 124 street. His auto collided with one operated by Harold Lindsay, 12505 109 street, travelling north on 124 street, and after striking the Edmonton man's car careened into the side of the Western Cycle and Hardware shop at 10429 124 street.

Front end of Cavanaugh's car was badly damaged. Lindsay's car was less seriously damaged, and one wall of the building crumpled.

Bamboo, a hollow-stemmed plant, has been known to expand 16 inches in circumference in a day.

ROOKIE COPPER GETS RIBBING

TORONTO, Oct. 22.—(UPI)—There's a red-headed rookie policeman today who's taking a ribbing at his job. He was found with his revolver under his lunch pail yesterday while he went to get measured for a uniform. When he returned he found the gun had been stolen.

Robert Walker Faces Charge

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 22.—(AP)—"Drunk, angry, loud and boisterous," read the West Los Angeles police blotter after screen star Robert Walker was arrested and booked today.

"Why I've been drunk for 20 years," Radio Officer L. L. Brown charged Walker, who at 39 has a $100,000-a-year contract at MGM studio, "but this lady (Thea Patricia Byrnes, 22, booked on suspicion of drunk driving) is certainly not drunk. Heck no, she could drink this whole jail full of liquor and never get drunk on the wrong side of the street."

Brown said he and another officer chased Walker's car for three blocks, but they forced Miss Byrnes, at the wheel, to stop. He said he had been driving on the wrong side of the street.

Brown said the actor related that he had met the young woman at a private party and that they later went to a bar and "had a few drinks."

"He also became belligerent and wanted to fight five officers at the station," said Brown. "He asked, that someone call his former wife, Jennifer Jones. She is the mother of his two children."

Walker was ordered to appear next Monday to plead to the drunk charge.

Allowance Cheques Total $1,559,702

Family allowances cheques paid to Alberta families totalled $1,559,702 during September, H. C. L. Gilman, provincial regional director of Family Allowances, reports.

September payments set a new record, being received by 121,975 families in behalf of 295,533 children. Average payment was $6.10 per child.

Number of individual cheques paid last month represents a 10.90 increase over the same date last year, Mr. Gilman said.

3 PEN OWN OBITS THEN DIE BY GAS

BURLINGTON, Oct. 22.—(AP)—Mrs. Mary L. Schroeder, 83, and her two daughters wrote their own obituary notices and then died by gas yesterday in what Coroner R. O. Giles called a triple suicide pact. The daughters were Mrs. Sophia C. Ebbel, 62, and Viola M. Schroeder, 47. The coroner said all burners on a kitchen stove were found turned on in the cottage where the three lived together. They left no reason for the suicide.

Isolated Car Owners To Get Road Outlet

CHAPLEAU, Ont., Oct. 22.—(CP)—Car owners in this northern Ontario railway town 127 miles west of Sudbury look for an early end to the highway isolation which now limits them to drives 45 miles south into the bushland and home again.

Contractors now are hacking eight miles of new road to the south through wide Jackpine plains and around timber-clad hills. When they finish that, another 12 miles will link the road south from Chapleau to another stretching north from the provincial highway system at Thessalon, some 110 miles south of here on the shore of Lake Huron.

The dream of a road outlet for this community of some 2,000 persons had its inception in 1923 when the Ontario government began the project.

Mr. Shera will recount the capture of the notorious Poundmaker at the Eagle Hills in 1885. W. Alvered Edmonds will give a talk on Western guides and interpreters.

The meeting will be open to the public.
